

RAP V2.0 DATABASE LINCENESE AGREEMENT

Introduction

The Richly Annotated Pedestrian (RAP) v2.0 database is used for scientific research of person retrieval in real surveillance scenarios. It is collected by the Center for Research on Intelligent System and Engineering (CRISE), Institute of Automation, Chinese Academy of Sciences (CASIA). This database is released for researchers with free of charge.

Rules

1. Redistribution: Without a prior approval from the creators (Dangwei Li, Zhang Zhang, Xiaotang Chen, and Kaiqi Huang) of the database, the RAP v2.0, either entirely or partly, should not be further distributed, published, copied, or disseminate in any way or form, no matter for profitable use or not, including further distribution to a different department or organization in the same system.

2. Modification: Without a prior approval from the creators, the RAP v2.0 database, either entirely or partly, is not allowed to be modified.

3. Commercial Use: Without a prior approval from the creators, the RAP v2.0 database, entirely, partly, or in any format derived thereof, is not allowed for commercial use.

4. Publication requirements: The subjects should be masked with face to avoid the invasion of privacy for the paper publication.

5. Acknowledgement: The following technical report or any of its upgraded versions should be cited in all documents and papers using the RAP v2.0 database for experiments:

Dangwei Li, Zhang Zhang, Xiaotang Chen, and kaiqi Huang, "A Richly Annotated Pedestrian Dataset for Person Retrieval in Real Surveillance Scenarios", IEEE Transaction on Image Processing 28.4 (2019): 1575-1590.

6 Indemnification: All persons using the database should agree to protect the privacy of all the subjects in RAP v2.0 database. Any loss caused by the misuse of the RAP v2.0 database should pay all damages, claims, judgments and expenses.

Note: Signatory must have the legal authority to sign licensing agreements on behalf of the Licensee with CASIA. Licensee's legal staff should review the terms and conditions of this agreement and execute it. Agreements signed by individuals without this authority are not valid and will be discarded.
